Report of Superintendent of Schools

To The Superintending School Committee:

I have the honor to submit for your criticism and advice the following report of the condition and progress of your schools for the past year:

The chief causes for congratulation in the year's record are:—

- 1 The evident interest in the schools shown by the citizens and evidenced by an appropriation enabling us to add a week to the school year.
- 2 Better attendance of all pupils with less attempts at truancy.
- 3 Better salaries which will attract a better grade of teachers to our schools.
- 4 A recognition of our needs by the State with an added appropriation.

And by no means least, a very tolerant and helpful spirit of criticism of our efforts by the townspeople.

By this time the townspeople will begin to demand some show of progress under the new order of affairs. We trust that such progress is in evidence and may go on.

There has been no attempt at anything new during the year. The work has followed the lines laid down last year. It has been our aim to do the best possible with the material we can afford.

There have been fewer changes in the teaching force, partly because we have been able to pay a little more, and partly because we were fortunate enough to secure teachers for the various positions who satisfied their constituents at the prices we could pay.

For the first time I believe we have a number of Normal graduates in the force. I have tried to place these where we could afford to pay them enough to hold them, but have not always been successful. One was sent to No. 4 because I felt that that district had been neglected. I hope the efforts and handicaps of the teachers of this school are appreciated by all.

The schools have been maintained as nearly as possible so as to give all 30 weeks, or one week more than last year.

It was necessary to discontinue Districts No. 1 and No. 9 in the winter because of local conditions affecting the pupils. The school at Greenwood Center was suspended during the spring term because the neighborhood had only 4 pupils to attend. Two of these attended at No. 9, another at No. 11 and transportation was offered the other to No. 11.

I would like to call attention to the conditions in No. 7. We have here a neighborhood with only five children of school age, with a team going to another and better school every day. The school authorities during the fall just past offered transportation to these pupils to a graded school. Under the conditions named it would cost about one-half to carry the pupils that it would cost to maintain a school. In the end a school was maintained, but it seems ridiculous to pay a teacher $2 for doing what one of the neighbors could afford to do for $1 with no appreciable expense to himself, to say nothing of the fact that only very young and inexperienced teachers will take such a school, and money paid the teacher is usually taken out of town and entirely lost to the community. At present the school is closed because no teacher can be found for it. We hope to open it again as soon as a teacher is available, pending the action of the town.

The children on Howe Hill were sent to No. 7 last spring and last fall were taken to Locke's Mills. It would be much easier to secure a teacher here than at No. 7, but the neighborhood evinced a spirit of fairness that was very helpful. A glance at the comparative cost will enable the voters to determine the wisdom of the course followed.

Except over questions of consolidation, there has been no friction between the school authorities and parents over the matter of attendance. This is a gratifying change from the previous year. It is worthy of note that the best attendance was maintained in those schools where the parents did the most visiting. A perfectly logical deduction, that the same interest that prompted the one stimulated the other. As the parents realize the value of the schools, they will be willing to sacrifice their own material interests and comforts to keep the children in school.

In some instances there were two or three children not attending school, who, it is our conviction should be, but the necessary steps to prove our contentions were not clear and it seemed best not to involve the town in a costly dispute whose outcome was uncertain.

It speaks well for the town that it has not been necessary to call upon a truant officer during the present year.

During the past year the new law in regard to teachers' certificates became effective. This has made a temporary scarcity of teachers, with a consequent rise in salaries. In the end it will give us better teachers, but we must expect to pay more. The farmer should be willing to pay as much for a person to train his children as for one to care for his stock. Often this is not true, however.

According to the last available State report Greenwood was raising locally for support of schools over six mills of her valuation. This is much higher than the average rate for the whole County or for the whole State. Today nearly all States recognize such local conditions and try to relieve them. In this State such aid comes under the title of Equalization Fund. The sum so apportioned us this year was for increase in salaries and extension of school year. The amount was $175, a sum sufficient to pay for about two full weeks of schooling, or all our transportation expenses. I believe that the method in vogue in some states of giving an increasingly large percentage of state aid to towns raising a high tax rate for schools is just and should be followed universally. This is the only chance for giving the boy in the country anywhere near equal school facilities with boys in the richer towns and cities.

The amount raised by the town last year seems ample for school purposes so long as schools are on a 30-week basis. I trust that the same amount may be raised this year.

BOOKS.

There has been no radical change in any of the books during the year. Most of the purchases were to fill out shortages. The smaller children wear out their books faster, and the greatest need now is for reading material for the primary grades. Readers are also needed for the grammar grades. These are the most pressing needs. The other needs are mostly incidental, and the usual appropriation should be sufficient to cover all contemplated purchases.

SCHOOLHOUSES.

The schoolhouse at Greenwood City was thoroughly repaired during the past year.

The one at Locke's is in good repair except that the lighting is poor. A remodeling seems the only remedy for the present difficulties there. A few repairs are needed in the Martin district at the Center, and at No. 4. All the others are in good condition except for seats. The seats at No. 1 and No. 7 are especially bad.

With the foregoing hints as guides the Committee, who have very kindly assumed the whole oversight of repairs, should be able to give a fairly accurate estimate of the amount needed for repairs.

Some attempt was made during the year to interest the boys in the extension work being done by the University of Maine and worked out through the Boys' Potato Clubs. Nothing came of these efforts, but it is to be hoped that the coming year will note an awakened interest in this matter. We want our boys to stay on the farms, the brightest ones with the rest. The latter most emphatically won't if they see a better chance in the cities. These Potato Clubs offer a chance for the boys to learn improved methods, and I trust they will provoke an interest in some degree commensurate with their worth. One of the reasons for the "High Cost of Living" is that not enough boys are staying on the farms.

Again I wish to express my appreciation and thanks to your Committee, the teachers, parents, and especially the children who have made my year's work so pleasant and have contributed so vitally to whatever measure of success the schools have attained.

Respectfully submitted,

E. F. CALLAHAN, Superintendent.
